RE:

Dear Dr. Roberts:

Enclosed are the admission and discharge summaries from your patient admission to the Clinical Research Center at the University of Rochester. I think the notes are self-explanatory.

It was our feeling that the patient did have idiopathic grand mal epilepsy and should be carried on Dilantin. We did not put him back on his antihypertensive medication because at the time of his discharge, his blood pressures were well within normal range. However, I am certain as in most other cases, his blood pressure will rise again as he resumes his normal activities and probably in the future will require medication of this type. Other than the hypertension and related cardiac changes, the epilepsy and the hemorrhoidal bleeding, we found no evidence of disease in Mr.

I hope this summary will be of some benefit to you.

Sincerely yours,

Christine Waterhouse, M.D.
Professor of Medicine
